

Attention: Lead Paint Inspector

Due to the possibility of structural changes or changes to the paint conditions of certain surfaces since the last inspection report, a lead paint inspector must conduct a visual assessment of the property described below, using the initial inspection report as a guide. Please fill out the following letter and return it to _____.

Date:

Name of Property Owner:

Address of Property Owner:

City, State, Zip:

Dear Property Owner:

This letter certifies that on _____, I visually assessed your property located at _____ in the City of Somerville which was determined to have lead violations in the report dated _____.

☐ There have been no structural changes to the property listed above. In addition, I have found no significant changes in the paint conditions which were listed on the original report.

☐ I have found that low risk work has been done for compliance purposes.

☐ I have found structural changes to the property (please see reverse side).

☐ I have found a significant change in the paint condition on the surfaces listed on the reverse side (loose v. intact). A new deleading bid may be needed.

This letter is only to verify the condition of the premises which was inspected more than one year ago. It does not serve as a Letter of Compliance or a Letter of Reoccupancy Reinspection. It serves as an attachment to the Initial Inspection Report.

Sincerely,

Inspector
